The volume collects the most important papers Pierluigi Donini wrote in the last three decades with the aim of promoting a better assessment of post-hellenistic philosophy. By focusing on the mutual confrontation with Plato's and Aristotle's texts for the development of both Aristotelianism and Platonism,

Donini's papers provide the readers with an overall account of the philosophy of the commentators and argue for its importance for the history of the European thought. The scientific personalities of Luigi Cremona, Eugenio Beltrami, Salvatore Pincherle, Federigo Enriques, Beppo Levi, Giuseppe Vitali, Beniamino Segre and of several other mathematicians who worked in Bologna in the century 1861-1960 are examined by different authors, in some cases providing different view points. Most contributions in the volume are historical; they are reproductions of original documents or studies on an original work and its impact on later research. The achievements of other mathematicians are investigated for their present-day importance. "African authors have consistently returned to childhood to find their personal as well as their racial roots. Far from being merely nostalgic yearnings for a lost paradise, many of the treatments of childhood as shown in articles in this issue have exposed a grim reality of cruelty, harshness, parental (particularly paternal) egocentrism and extraordinary bruising of the vulnerable child psyche. Camara Laye may have portrayed a paradise state but Yvonne Vera has treated one of the cruelest features of childhood anywhere. African authors generally have been sternly responsible in their portrayal of childhood." -- Publisher's description Utopian hope and dystopian despair are characteristic features of modernism and the avant-garde. Readings of the avant-garde have frequently sought to identify utopian moments coded in its works and activities as optimistic signs of a possible future social life, or as the attempt to preserve hope against the closure of an emergent dystopian present. The fourth volume of the EAM series, European Avant-Garde and Modernism Studies, casts light on the history, theory and actuality of the utopian and dystopian strands which run through European modernism and the avant-garde from the late 19th to the 21st century. The book's varied and carefully selected contributions, written by experts from around 20 countries, seek to answer such questions as: · how have modernism and the avant-garde responded to historical circumstance in mapping the form of possible futures for humanity? · how have avant-garde and modernist works presented ideals of living as alternatives to the present? · how have avant-gardists acted with or against the state to remodel human life or to resist the instrumental reduction of life by administration and industrialisation? Un innovativo e pratico testo per l'insegnamento e l'apprendimento dei processi di scrittura. Gli strumenti e le attività proposte nel volume, operative e flessibili, modulabili secondo un curriculum verticale, sono pensati per accompagnare insegnanti e allievi di scuola primaria e secondaria di I grado nell'insegnamento e nell'apprendimento di strategie per l'autoregolazione dei processi di scrittura. I laboratori. Facendo riferimento agli studi di matrice cognitivista, socio-costruttivista e sulla motivazione allo scrivere, gli autori forniscono indicazioni metodologiche e materiali per allestire contesti laboratoriali centrati sulle diverse tipologie di testo: narrativo, espositivo, argomentativo. Le guide. Una serie di Guide procedurali, metacognitive e per l'autoregolazione con schede, questionari e percorsi di automonitoraggio promuovono l'autonomia degli alunni nell'impiego di strategie funzionali ai processi di produzione del testo scritto. La scrittura come apprendimento. Il laboratorio di scrittura è un contesto fisico, ma anche psicologico, in cui gli allievi possono «imparare a scrivere», ossia capire come si costruiscono i testi e altre forme di scrittura. L'accento è posto sul come si fa. Ciò significa che l'allievo deve avere la percezione che può fare esperienza di scrittura, senza l'ansia di dover redigere, in breve tempo, un testo ben confezionato e rifinito. L'insegnante, pertanto, distinguerà la fase della scrittura come apprendimento, da svolgersi in laboratorio, e la fase della scrittura come prestazione, in cui, sulla base dei prodotti scritti, si valutano le competenze acquisite dagli alunni con un determinato percorso di apprendimento. Il libro si apre con un'introduzione al modello teorico di riferimento relativo alla comprensione del testo scritto e un'ampia presentazione della struttura e degli obiettivi del programma di recupero. Largo spazio è dedicato poi alle schede operative (187 schede) da utilizzare come integrazione, sostegno e approfondimento al programma multimediale. Nello specifico, seguendo le tappe affrontate nel software, vengono presentate in un percorso graduale 65 schede da svolgere come lavoro individuale (contrassegnate con l'icona della matita), 47 schede come lavoro in coppia (icona della stretta di mano), 30 schede per il brainstorming collettivo e l'apprendimento cooperativo in classe (icona della lampadina) e 45 schede di taglio metacognitivo (icona del semaforo). presentazione della collana! Publisher Description This is corpus linguistics with a text linguistic focus. The volume concerns lexical inequality, the fact that some words and phrases share the quality of being key---and thereby reflect or promote important themes in some textual contexts, while others do not. The patterning of words which differ in their centrality to text meaning is of increasing interest to corpus linguistics. At the same time software resources are yielding increasingly more detailed ways of identifying and studying the linkages between key words and phrases in text databases. This volume brings together work from some of the leading researchers in this field. It presents thirteen studies organized in three sections, the first containing a series of studies exploring the nature of keyness itself, then a set of five studies looking at keyness in specific discourse contexts, and then three studies with an educational focus. "Edited by two central figures in the development of keyword analysis, and with contributions from leading specialists in the field, this unique collection brings together a wide range of insights into how keyword analysis can contribute both to linguistic and cultural analysis and to language education. It deserves a place on the bookshelves of anyone with an interest in these areas"--- Christopher Tribble, King's College, London "This is a fascinating volume addressing both methodological and theoretical questions in the study of keywords. It pushes forward the exploration of the nature of keyness and the interpretation of keywords in their textual contexts. An inspiring contribution to a central area of corpus linguistics." ---Michaela Mahlberg, University of Nottingham L'obiettivo di questo libro è fornire agli insegnanti di scuola primaria delle indicazioni perché possano insegnare ai loro allievi a scrivere testi complessi con facilità e soddisfazione. Il libro si compone di una serie di proposte che mirano anzitutto a creare diverse competenze. Propone: - riflessioni sulla pratica della scrittura in genere, e a scuola in particolare; - una sezione dedicata alle tipologie testuali, che unisce teoria e pratica; - una presentazione delle modalità di insegnamento della scrittura; - giochi con le parole, che mettano in funzione la creatività dei bambini, praticando riscritture e creazioni collettive e individuali; - indicazioni didattiche funzionali sulla pratica della composizione di un testo; - proposte didattiche per le classi terza, quarta e quinta; - un saggio sul linguaggio metaforico, così importante per i bambini. This book explores gender stereotyping and gender inequalities in secondary education in England, Hungary and Italy. The authors highlight the importance of addressing student and teacher attitudes if long-term changes in mindset are desired, as well as the underlying stereotypes that persist and linger in these educational contexts. Promoting a whole-school culture change approach, this book explores views of gender stereotypes from teachers and students concerning subject and career choices, as well as collaborative work with teachers, experts and NGOs in implementing and evaluating gender equality charters. Drawing on extensive research, this book employs an intersectional and cross-country approach: while the authors acknowledge the challenges and opportunities of researching gender equality frameworks across different countries, ultimately these link to the UN Sustainable Development goal of gender equality. Papers from a conference held in Feb. 2002 at the University of Bath. Ricostruzione storica delle attività della Commissione del libro scolastico italiano nel periodo del ministro della Pubblica educazione Giovanni

Gentile. Despite international congresses and international journals, anthropologies of education differ significantly around the world. Linguistic barriers constrain the flow of ideas, which results in a vast amount of research on educational anthropology that is not published in English or is difficult for international readers to find. This volume responds to the call to attend to educational research outside the United States and to break out of "metropolitan provincialism." A guide to the anthropologies and ethnographies of learning and schooling published in German, French, Spanish, Portuguese, Italian, Slavic languages,

Japanese, and English as a second language, show how scholars in Latin America, Japan, and elsewhere adapt European, American, and other approaches to create new traditions. As the contributors show, educators draw on different foundational research and different theoretical discussions. Thus, this global survey raises new questions and casts a new light on what has become a too-familiar discipline in the United States. What do school history textbooks mean in the contemporary world? What issues and debates surround their history and production, their distribution and use across cultures? This volume brings together articles by authors from the United States, Italy, Japan, Germany, France, Russia and England, each piece drawing attention to a series of fascinating yet highly specific national debates. In this collection, perspectives on the place and purpose of school history textbooks are shown to differ across space and time. For the student or scholar of comparative education this compilation raises important methodological questions concerning the grounds and parameters upon which it is possible to make comparisons.
