Story motifs from all of the thirty major picaresque novels of Spain's Golden Age present the picaro as a nomadic rogue who survived by cleverness and deception. Though his tricks constitute the main interest in the novels, the picaro's satirical comments give a wealth of information on the social, political and religious background of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries in Spain. This motif-index, based on the classification system of Stith Thompson, includes an informative and analytical Introduction and a Summary which precisely categorizes the appearance of various motifs. A catalogue listing more than 12,000 types of guns and over 1,100 American and foreign manufacturers, catalogued and priced by condition for collectors and dealers. Entries include brief background and history of the item, often with a photograph. The introductory material reviews gun purchase protocol, and includes the entire text of the new Assault Weapons Law. The revised edition features a new section on the M1 Garand for military arms collectors. Annotation copyright by Book News, Inc., Portland, OR This volume contains the proceedings of the NATO-Advanced Study Institute on the "Spectroscopy of Biological Molecules", which took place on July 4-15, 1983 in Acquafredda di Maratea, Italy. The institute concentrated on three main subjects: the structure and dynamics of DNA, proteins, and visual and plant pigments. Its timeliness has been linked to rapid advances in certain spectroscopic techniques which yielded a considerable amount of new information on the structure and interactions of biologically important molecules. Among these techniques Fourier transform infrared, resonance and surface enhanced Raman spectroscopies, Raman microscopy and micro probing, time resolved techniques, two photon and ultrafast electronic, and C-13, N-15 and P-31 NMR spectroscopies and kinetic and static IR difference spectroscopy received a great deal of attention at the Institute. In addition, an entirely new technique, near-millimeter-wave spectroscopy has been presented and discussed. Two introductory quantum chemical lectures, one on the structure of water in DNA, and another on the energy bands in DNA and proteins set the stage for the experimentally oriented lectures that followed. Fundamental knowledge on hydrogen bonding was the topic of two other lectures. Panel discussions were held on the structure and conformations of DNA, metal-DNA adducts and proteins and on visual pigments. Many scientists who normally attend different conferences and never meet, met at Acquafredda di Maratea. We feel, that at the end of our Institute a synthetic vi-w emerged on the powerful spectroscopic and theoretical methods which are now available for the study of biological molecules. The laser as a radiation source with temporal and spatial coherence has made a tremendous impact in the different fields of science. As a result, new and exciting research has been developing all over the world. Laser spectroscopy shares a large fraction of this research, and in the last decade numerous books and monographs have been published on this subject. Most of these books and monographs contain the work done in the physics community. Very few books represent the advances made in laser chemistry, a field that is flourishing and whose future is indeed very exciting. It was felt that a meeting that focused on the important questions being asked in the chemistry community, and on new and possible directions in laser chemistry, was needed. This three-day conference, held at the California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, California, on March 20-22, 1978, covered five important areas in laser chemistry: Laser-induced chemistry, picosecond processes and techniques, nonlinear optical spectroscopy and dephasing processes, multiphoton excitation in molecules, and molecular dynamics by molecular beams. Provides values and details on over 12,000 guns manufactured from 1900 to the present.
